RED MEN OF KENTUCKY

Endorse National Indian Monument.

Added impetus has been given the movement to erect a suitable memorial to the North American Indian in New York Harbor by the hearty cooperation of the various orders of Red Men throughout the country.

Red Men in Kentucky are in hearty sympathy with the movement and resolutions expressing their willingness to support it have been passed by many of the Tribes. Cherokee Tribe No. 8, of Louisville, at its regular meeting, unanimously pledged its support and a resolution was passed donating from the "wampum belt" of the Tribe the sum of 10 "fatoms" ($10) A committee of three has been appointed to open and conduct a popular subscription to aid the work, said popular subscription to consist of two inches from each individual Red Man and one inch from each "pale face" who may contribute.

The movement to erect this gigantic memorial to the Indian at the entrance of the Nation, originated with Mr. Rudman Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, who, for years, has been a close student of the Indian in his native ground. The bill providing for the same was introduced by Hon. Joseph A. Goulden, of New York, at the past session of Congress, and has been favorably reported from the Committee on Library, to which it was referred. A similar bill was introduced at the same time in the Senate by Senator Dewey. It is expected that the bill will become a law at the coming session, when work on the monument will begin at once.

Annual Conference

Of The Methodist Church Locate Ministers For Ensuing Year.

The annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Kentucky closed its session at Painesville, last Sunday night with the reading of the appointments for the ensuing year.

Dr. D. H. Hitchcock, who for three years has served the Church here, was located in the Ashland district.

Rev. T. B. Stratton was retained as the Superintendent of the Lexington District, and Rev. F. W. Harrow formerly Superintendent of the Covington district, was assigned as pastor here. Rev. J. R. Howes was returned to the Harrison circuit and Rev. E. B. Hill was sent to Sardis, his boyhood home.

V. T. Willis was returned to London, John Cheep returned to Middleboro, and Geo. V. Morris was returned again to Lexington.

Bishop Warren, who convened the Conference, was called away during the session and Bishop I. W. Bashford was called to preside during the remainder of the session. The next annual session will be held at Newport.

The Surprise of Goliath.

The preacher was graphically describing the encounter of David and Goliath to an audience of children. "He swung the sling around his head," said he dramatically, "suiting the action to the word," and whizz went the stone. I can see Goliath clapping his big hand to his brow and saying: "Well Such a thig as this never entered my head before!" And then he reeled and sank to the earth—a dead giant." The applause was terrific—also the laughter.—The Christian Herald.

Eddyville Death Chair

Work of Installing Electro-cution for Criminals Goes on; Executions Will Take Place in West Kentucky Prison

Frankfort Prison Will Soon Be Known As Reformatory.

Although it is expected that the chair may not be used for many months, the work of installing the death chair at the Eddyville penitentiary is going on steadily. The Prison Commission taking no chances on being caught napping. The chair will be ready in a few weeks, and any condemned man who is to die in the chair will be put to death at Eddyville in what is considered the most approved manner. The electrocution law becomes effective on June 14th, and if a crime is committed after that time, for which the death penalty is imposed by the Judge and jury, the condemned man will be electrocuted. But the electrocution law applies only to crimes committed after the law becomes effective.

As there is always delay in inflicting the death sentence, on account of appeals and the usual legal delays, it is hardly probable that an electrocution will take place for some months yet. Only a few murders, where the death penalty is likely to be imposed, have been committed in Kentucky since the new law became effective, and the death penalty has not been returned by any jury since that time.

Any persons have wondered why the death chair was not located at Frankfort. The reason is that the Frankfort penitentiary soon will cease to be called a penitentiary, but will be a reformatory, and it was considered hardly proper to inflict the death penalty in a reformatory. Another objection was that there are too many nightseers in Frankfort, and they would all want to go to the penitentiary and see the death chair. So the Prison Commission did not hesitate long about where they would locate the place for putting to death of condemned men.

The Prison Commission has its hands full just now getting ready to convert the prison at Frankfort into a reformatory, and in a few months they will have worked out the details and the transfer of prisoners will begin. Already the sorting of prisoners is in progress. The new law is applied to men convicted since the new law became effective, and all those over 30 years of age, no matter where convicted, are taken to Eddyville, while those under 30 are brought to Frankfort.

Paroles are now being granted under the new law and many men in the prisons of the State have had the door of hope opened for them, for under the new law any convict, who meets the requirements as to conduct, can be paroled. Under the old law a man convicted of certain crimes was not eligible to parole, and a man sent up for life had to serve five years. But now all are eligible and the result is a deluge of applications.

New Game Law.

Book agents may be killed from October 1 to September 1; spring poets from March 1 to June 1; scan dal mongers, April 1 to February 1; umbrella borrowers, August 2 to November 1, and from February 1 to May 1, and while every man who accepts a paper two years, but when the bill is presented, says: "I never ordered it," may be killed on sight without reserve or relief from valuation of appraisement laws, and be buried face downward without benefits of clergy.—Aurora (Ind) Bulletin.

POWERS

Addressed an Immense Audience Here Last Saturday

Was Received With Enthusiasm.

Caleb Powers spoke to the people of Knox county last Saturday afternoon and was met by hundreds of people.

Before the hour arrived for the speaking to begin every available inch of space in the court room was occupied and the hall, stairway and all about the building was crowded with persons anxious to hear what he had to say.

Mr. Powers finally consented to speak from a platform in front of the court house, so the audience adjourned to the Public Square and stood for two hours listened to Knox county's gifted son present his views and appeal to the voters for their support.

The audience was decidedly larger than any that has ever assembled here since Vice-President Fairbanks spoke in this city. Mr. Powers urged that the people keep quiet and let him talk, but enthusiasm was so high that it would "pop off" every now and then in spite of his request.

The demonstration showed clearly that Powers' home county will honor him with quite a handsome majority.

The reports and indications that come from throughout the District are sufficient to warrant the belief that Powers will carry at least fifteen out of the nineteen counties with a strong possibility of his carrying every county in the district.

LEXINGTON TYPEWRITER CONCERN INCORPORATES

Capital Stock of $2,500. Is Provided for in Articles Filed Wednesday.

The Board of Directors of the Lexington Typewriter Exchange, which has offices on Short Street in the Northern Bank Building, filed articles of incorporation with County Clerk Theo Lewis Wednesday, capitalizing the firm at $2,500.

The articles provide that the firm shall engage in the sale of typewriters and adding machines with equipments, and conduct a repair shop in connection. The articles were acknowledged by Enoch Grehan, J. E. Byrdler and Jennie Grehan, who own the twenty-five shares of stock.

Train Wreck, Two Killed

Defective Switch Derails Passenger Train at Williamsburg.

On Monday September 12th, the L. & N. passenger train No. 34, from Knoxville to Cincinnati, was derailed by a defective switch at Williamsburg.

Engineer J. D. Sudbury was crushed to death, and fireman John E. Branch scalped so severely that his injuries proved fatal. Both men were residents of Knoxville, Tenn. No passengers were injured.

JOHN HENSON

Pardoned Last Monday For The Murder of Sam Early.

The pardon issued to John Henson charged and convicted of the murder of Sam Early, at Flat Lick a year ago, was received here last Monday afternoon and Henson was immediately released from jail.

The killing, it will be remembered, grew out of a row that occurred at the Trustee election in Flat Lick a year ago last August. Henson had been tried by a Laurel county jury and sentenced to the State penitentiary for life.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS, On the 10th day of August, 1910, it pleased our Heavenly Father to call from the bosom of earth to the rest of the Great Lodge Room on high, our esteemed friend and brother, WILLIAM E. SMITH;

Therefore be it resolved by the members of La Belle Lodge, No. 59, I. O. O. F., in regular session; That in the death of Brother Smith, this Lodge has lost a faithful and useful member, who tried in his daily walk to practice the precepts of our Order, the community an upright and many citizen, his friends and companions a true and unfaltering friend, and his family a devoted husband and father, and a dutiful and affectionate son;

That we extend to his bereaved family our heart-felt sympathy and commend them to the tender mercies of our Heavenly Father;

That while we mourn the loss of our brother, we bow with humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well;

That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, a copy spread on the minutes in memory of our brother, and a copy furnished the Mountain Advocate, the Mountain Baptist, the Peoples' News and The Kentucky Odd Fellow for publication.

Respectfully submitted,

JARVIS-MITCHELL.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride, Jarvis' Store, on Sept. 7th at 11 o'clock, when Mr. Abijah F. Mitchell, of Sneadville, Tenn., claimed for his bride Miss Mattie Jarvis, daughter of Mr. John D. Jarvis. The only attendants at the wedding were Wm. J. Davis, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Miss Dorothy Mitchell, of Fountain City, sister of the groom.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. T. Stump, of Boring. The bride was lovely in light colored silk and the bride's maid wore green silk. Only the immediate family and friends were present, including Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Jarvis and Mr. Lewis Jarvis, of Campbellsville, Ky. After the ceremony dinner was served and the young couple were driven at once to the depot where they took the train for Knoxville, expecting to spend a few days at the Appalachian Exposition and to visit in Philadelphia.

Mr. Mitchell is a son of Dr. I. B. Mitchell, a prominent physician of Sneadville. Mrs. Mattie Mitchell (nee) Jarvis, is well known and very popular among a host of friends and acquaintances, her father being a prominent business and public man. After September 20th Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will be at home in their new residence near Sneadville.

EXPERTS AT HELM

Personnel of Kentucky State Fair Management.

Men of Experience and Energy Have Been Picked in Charge of Every Department.

With comparatively few changes, the personnel of the active management of the Kentucky State Fair of 1910 is as last year. J. W. Newman, of Versailles, who has so successfully guided the fair during the past few years, will be again in charge as secretary. While the state failed to appropriate this year money greatly needed for additional buildings, yet it is believed there will be no genuine embarrassment for that reason to the success of the approaching fair, and everything points to the largest and best state fair ever held south of the Ohio river. The following members of the state board of agriculture have been assigned to the departments enumerated for this year: M. C. Rankin, chairman, Frankfort, poultry, plants and flowers, live stock judging contest; M. A. Seovel, Lexington, dairy cattle, dogs; G. N. McGrew, Bayou, woman's work, farm implements and machinery; J. L. Dent, Letchfield, best cattle; Guthrie, M. Wilson, Hardtown, horses, mules, jack stock, speed contests; L. L. Dorsey, Anchorage, sheep and goats, vegetables and melons; H. M. Foman, Obert, swine; Wm. Adams, Nicholasville, field seed and grain, tubercles; Fred R. Blackburn, Stanton, horticulture, forestry and minerals.

The following superintendents and assistants will be in charge of the respective departments: Horses, R. H. Lillard, Lawrenceburg, superintendent and Geo. C. Hoffman, Lawrenceburg, assistant superintendent; mules, Wm. Simmons, Shepherdsville, superintendent; Jacks and Jennies, John T. Veach, Haysboro, superintendent; short-horns, Herefords and Aberdorns, W. R. Moorman, Jr., superintendent; polled Durham, J. W. Crawford, Millwood, superintendent; red poll and dairy cattle, Edgar Vaughn, Shelbyville, superintendent; swine, H. L. Debeart, Elizabethtown, superintendent; sheep and goats, J. M. Driskell, Eagle Station, superintendent; poultry and pigeons, W. B. Buford, Nicholasville, superintendent; and E. S. Rorick, Louisville, assistant superintendent, in charge of pigeons; collie dogs, W. B. Middleton, Shelbyville, superintendent; vegetables and melons, Chas. Scholtz, Jr., Louisville, superintendent; field seed and grain, J. C. Lovelace, Boston, superintendent; and Frank Padon, Joy, assistant superintendent; tobacco, F. P. Schreyer, Carrollton, superintendent; and E. S. Rees, Louisville, associate superintendent; horticulture, W. W. Hillman, Lexington, superintendent; and J. H. Harrison, Jackson, assistant superintendent; plants and flowers, C. L. Brannon, Paducah, superintendent; woman's work and table linens, Miss Evelyn Porter, Louisville, superintendent; and Misses Eva N. McGrew, Bayou, and Annie Rutherford, Louisville, assistant superintendents; farm implements and machinery, G. P. Rogers, Sutherland, superintendent; forestry and minerals, Robert Blackburn, Stanton, superintendent; live stock judging, Prof. J. I. Hopper, Lexington, superintendent; speed races, C. R. Van Meter, Lebanon, superintendent.

Christian Church Service.

The public is invited with special cordiality to the musical service to be held at the Christian Church Sunday evening. This is the first of the fall services, and will be along the lines pursued so successfully last spring. An unusually good number will be given by Miss Fay Ingram, of Kansas City, who possesses a beautiful and well trained soprano voice.

The morning services at the Christian Church will begin at 10:45 in order to allow for the transaction of all business in connection with the calling of a new pastor.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were adopted by Teachers' Institute representing the counties of Whitley, Knox, Laurel and Bell—

RESOLVED, That we heartily commend the interest manifested in the welfare of the colored schools of these counties by the Superintendents. We especially commend the courtesies of Mr. Walter Evans, the Superintendent of Knox county, under whose immediate directions the Institute was held;

RESOLVED, That we place on record our sense of great loss in the removal of Prof. Wm. Clark to the other fields of labor. We commend him to the friends of education in his next field as an upright, consistent high minded Christian gentleman, and a man of unusual ability as a teacher. We further express our gratitude to Prof. H. W. Bond, for taking up the work of the Institute where Prof. Clark left it, and carrying it to a successful close;

RESOLVED, That we shall carry away with us pleasant memories of the kindness of the citizens of Barbourville and Fighting Creek. We hail with joy the educational awakening manifested in our beloved State and pledge ourselves to the furthering of this great awakening.

We especially pledge ourselves to the educational awakening of the Colored people of the State and place ourselves as obscure as laboring all forms of Christian education. We believe, with higher education for the few and industrial education for the masses, but the public schools are the foundation of all.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Dallas.

Wm. Martin was in Barbourville last Saturday on business.

John O. Mills made a business trip to Barbourville last Saturday.

D. T. Smith has a fine tobacco crop and is making ready to house.

J. & C. Smith's stove mill will soon be moved to Hammons' Fork.

Wm. Martin has moved his goods into his new house and has a large house and is better located in every way.

Corn crops are fine on old Hammons' Fork of Goose Creek this year, so our people will live on "easy street" the coming winter.

Our school is progressing nicely at Rock Spring. There is no school on Horn Branch and at the Ham Branch schools, so all of those are coming to Rock Spring. This makes our school a banner school! Miss Charita Hendrix is the very efficient teacher.

There was a large crowd from this place to Barbourville last Saturday to be the Hon. Caleb Powers deliver his address to the electorate of Knox county, and they all came home exclaiming, it was the best speech ever made in Southeastern Kentucky.

Our Knoxville and Wilton news was unaccountably crowded out this week. Knoxville, come again; Wilton and all others, will do likewise.

FOR SALE—A splendid, upright, grand, Sterling Piano. In first class condition. Will sell at a great sacrifice. If interested call at my home and examine this splendid instrument.

POWERS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

At last the contest is over, and one of the most strenuous political campaigns ever witnessed in the old Eleventh District has come to a close.

For the past nine months the people have been more or less interested in the final outcome and every step has been watched with interest. This issue will be mailed out before the results are known officially, but we feel that we have fought a good fight and we believe a winning fight and are confidently expecting the results to show a decisive victory for Mr. Powers.

The Democrats have tried to make themselves believe that they might have a chance to win the district if a sufficient jealousy could be aroused between the contending Republicans, but it will do them no good as the Republican nominee will be elected this fall by the usual Republican majority no matter who he is, so that all of this unnecessary worrying will be for naught.

The Horse's Prayer.

To thee, my master, I offer my prayer: Feed me, and take care of me. Do not jerk the reins; do not whip me when going up hill. Never strike, beat or kick me, when I fail to understand when you want of me, but give me a chance to understand you. Watch me, and if I refuse to do your bidding, see if there is not something wrong with my harness.

Do not give me too heavy loads; never hitch me where water will drip on me. Keep me well shod. Examine my teeth when I fail to eat; I may have an ulcerated tooth. That you know, is very painful. I am unable to tell you in words when I am sick; so watch me, and I will try to tell you by signs. Pet me sometimes; I enjoy it, and I will learn to love you. Protect me in summer from the hot sun. Keep a blanket on me in winter weather, and never put a frosty bit in my mouth, but hold it in your hands a moment first. I carry you, pull you, wait patiently for you long hours day or night. I can not tell you when I am thirsty; give me clean, cool water often in hot weather.

Finally, when my strength is gone, instead of turning me over to a human brute, to be tortured and starved, take my life in the easiest and quickest way, and your God will reward you in this life and in Heaven. Amen.

Crime and the Human Face.

Leonard de Vinci spent several years in painting a picture of the Last Supper of our Savior. He went to a church to find the face of a child from which to paint the face of the Christ. He selected Pietro, who had a beautiful face. Several years passed while the painter worked on the picture. He had painted the face of Christ and all his apostles except one, that of Judas. Day after day he walked the streets of Milan looking for a face from which to paint a likeness of Judas. At last he found a wicked man whose face, marked by sin, revealed a bad heart. While painting this face he learned that it was the same face he had used when painting the face of Christ. Pietro had gone to Rome and lived with wicked people, and grew to be a wicked man. He had lost his soul and ruined his face.—Rev. J. M. Farrar, D. D., in The Christian Herald.

WEALTH OF HONORS

For Exhibitors in All Classes at the Kentucky State Fair.

Special prizes of extreme attractiveness and of unusual aggregate value more than $5,000 will be awarded at the Kentucky State Fair during the week of September 12-17. These premiums are distinct from the $10,000 in premiums offered directly under the management of the fair, and cover a variety of honors which will be greatly sought after by exhibitors.

The long list of special premiums announced up to date includes the following: "Highland Home" cup, donated by Gay Bros. of Glasgow, for best and finest saddle-bred foal of 1910; American Saddle Horse Breeders' association trophy for registered stallions or mares 3 years old or under; the Montgomery Chief special of $125 for the finest and best stallion, mare or gelding, any age, by Montgomery Chief, offered by Ball Bros. Versailles; the Commissioner of Agriculture Saddle Horse stake, valued at $100, for best gelding, 3 years old or over; the Hayes cup, offered by W. P. Hayes, of Bloomfield, for the best head of Jack stock; the American Berkshire Swine association grand silver trophy for best young breed of Berkshire exhibited by a Kentucky breeder; loving cup, valued at $50, offered by Mrs. J. W. Henning, of Shelbyville, for four best Jersey cows; milk exhibited by one Kentucky owner; prizes aggregating $150 offered by the Red Poll Cattle Club of America; prizes aggregating nearly $100 offered by Commissioner of Agriculture M. C. Rankin for leading standard varieties of poultry; specials by the Southdown, Hampshire and Oxford Sheep Record association for respective exhibits of pure bred sheep; the American Jersey Cattle club for the first time offers four prizes, including two gold medals, total value $500. A medal is offered by the American Angora Goat Breeders' association for the best flock of registered Angora kids; the American Duroc-Jersey Swine Breeders' association offers $25 in special prizes; the swine stake prize of $50 for the best general collection of vegetables hung up by the J. A. Denunzio Fruit company, of Louisville; the American Shorthorn Breeders' association and American Hereford Cattle Breeders' association each tenders $750 as a special prize for best bred cattle of the respective breeds, one-half to go in general competition and one-half to cattle owned by Kentucky exhibitors; these liberal prizes are augmented by $1,000 in regular premiums set aside for those breeds by the state fair management; special prizes of $100 for Pollled Durham, offered by the Pollled Durham Association of America; the American Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' association offers $200 in specials; the Holstein-Friesian Association of America offers $100 in specials; Louisville florists will present a loving cup to the exhibitor of the best floral design; H. P. Hillenmeyer & Sons, of Lexington, offer $25 for the best exhibit of fruit grown from stock obtained from their nurseries.

In addition to the specials mentioned, there is the much coveted prize of $100 offered by the commissioner of agriculture for the best and largest display of farm, garden and orchard products from any one county. This offer last year resulted in an exhibit of great interest, and it is understood the number of counties competing this year will probably be doubled.

CHANCE FOR THE BOYS.

Prizes Offered at State Fair to Best Judges of Live Stock.

Live stock judging by students and farmer boys has been witnessed at the Kentucky State Fair of 1910. One of the contests is open to all boys of the state. Commissioner of Agriculture M. C. Rankin offers to the farmer-boys $100 to be used as a scholarship in the agricultural department of the State university for the best written judgment of horses, cattle, swine and sheep exhibited. Another set of prizes aggregating $50, will be offered to the students of the State university. The sum is divided into five premiums. These specialties are intended to encourage the youth of Kentucky in the science of live stock judging.

The Very Best. The best criminy for a woman's hat is a good humored face.—Lippincott's.

The Park of Palms, "CAYO COSTA." Key of the Coast.

THIS IDEAL RESIDENCE AND BUSINESS LOCATION INVITES YOU TO COME AND MAKE YOUR HOME HERE.

The greatest future lies before this delightful spot of any place in the South or Southwest to-day, and this you come and invest while the opportunity to secure a site is within the reach of everyone.

Where Cayo Costa Is:

Cayo Costa is an island situated on the Southern coast of Florida and separated from the main land by Charlotte Harbor.

The northern end of this island forms the southern side of the deep-water entrance or inlet from the Gulf of Mexico into Charlotte Harbor in Lee County, Florida, known as Boca Grande (Spanish for Great Mouth).

Charlotte Harbor and Boca Grande is the finest, largest and deepest natural harbor and channel on the Florida coast.

This has the advantage over all other harbors in the State by reason of its being situated farthest south.

It is the most southern point on the Gulf coast of this State at which it is practicable to make substantial and permanent deep-water terminals for railroads, for their steamship connections, as is evidenced by the soundings of this channel and bay, and by the geography and topography of the coast southward, as well as the fact that all railroads already operating there and those proposed and projected leading farthest south on the Gulf coast make this Pass their terminus.

The Seaboard Air Line Railway is completed and in operation to a point near Boca Grande and will be completed to that point before long. The C. H. & N. Railway is completed to Boca Grande Pass, and has been in operation to that point over two years. Both of the above named railroads are north of the pass or inlet. The Atlantic Coast Line Railway, which now terminates at Fort Myers on Caloosahatchee, and which passes within twenty-five miles of Boca Grande, will run a terminal to the southside of the Pass through Cayo Costa in order to keep pace with these other railroads in touching the best harbor and the deepest water.

Boca Grande is recognized as one of the most advantageous harbors in Florida, from which to establish steamship lines to Cuban and Gulf ports, and, in the event of the Panama Canal being completed and operated, Boca Grande and steamship connections will be directly upon the commercial highway of the world.

For fish and oyster business, for an outlet for phosphate, lumber, naval stores, cattle, fruit and truck shipments from the interior, this place cannot be surpassed and is now being considerably used, as such and upon the land contiguous to and in the same vicinity of Boca Grande is being developed one of the most popular resorts for tourists, health and pleasure seekers at all seasons, sportsmen, tarpon fishers and yachtsmen in the United States, and one of the most important commercial cities in the South.

This subdivision lies contiguous to the Naval and Military reservation of the United States Government, which covers the northern point of the island and cannot be bought. It is a compact block extending across the island from Gulf to Bay, having over half a mile water frontage on each side, and, excepting the said reservation, is the closest land to the pass or inlet.

This small area south of and very near this deep and broad inlet, contiguous to the Gulf on one side and the great Bay on the other, has the best water protection against cold and is the most nearly free from frosts of any spot in the State, and the soil here is well adapted to the growth of coconut, date and other palm trees and plants and nearly all other tropical ornamental and fruit trees and plants.

These golf key lands are the most healthful we have in the State, being absolutely free from malaria and this key is completely surrounded by the purest and deepest of deep-sea water.

This key has over seven miles of most beautiful golf beach front, which is the finest place in Florida for surf bathing, while on the bay side is splendid harbor for any size of boat, as well as the best fishing ground in the State.

The reservation referred to is of the same character of land and soil as the land embraced in this subdivision of Cayo Costa, is a most beautiful natural park, containing several hundred acres, which will remain perpetually public land and, adjoining this property, lends great value to it.

The acreage of this island is limited to the extent that it will all be used and occupied, for which reason lots here will command high prices in a short time. This is not a fake, nor a cheap backwoods subdivision, but is something that can be re-sold at a good profit at any time.

The owner of this land has sold a number of lots to friends and neighbors who know the value of this property, and is now placing a number of lots upon the market for sale.

We have secured the privilege of selling just 25 lots in this ideal location. The lots are 50x130 ft. each, all fronting on a 80ft. street and running back to a 20 ft. alley.

The price, for a very limited time only, on these lots, is $100.00 per lot, payable $10 cash with the order and $5 per month until all is paid.

Mr. D. W. Clark,

Barbourville, Ky.

Dear Sir:

I have just happened in Mr. Land's office and he said he was going to send you one of the maps of "Cayo Costa"—work of my hands—and also that you desired some of the lots.

I, as Engineer, personally surveyed and platted this fine piece of land and am more than satisfied that you will find the land and location better than told to you.

I was Engineer for the Pine Mountain Iron & Coal Co., at Pineville, for some years, and later was City Engineer of Pineville, and again later with the American Association, at Middletown.

I trust you may get up a lot of Kentuckians who will accept of the generous offer extended, and who will build there. I expect to go down next month and want some blue blooded Kentuckians to be my neighbors.

My home is at Frankfort, Ky., which place of course you will know.

You can safely recommend this property as FIRST CLASS in every respect, and I have been told from childhood that a Kentuckian's word is good. I hope to see you soon.

Yours truly,

J. H. GRAY.

One-fourth of all money received on the sale of lots will be expended in street improvements of this subdivision for the benefit of investors.

Purchasers will not be required to pay taxes until after the expiration of two years from date of application for lots.

Cash purchases will be discounted five per cent.

No interest will be charged on deferred payments.

Warranty deed will be delivered to purchaser with an abstract of title showing clear and unincumbered title at the time final payment for purchase is made. If interested apply to

A "Liver" Trouble

We read and advertisement not long ago that read: "How do you live? That depends upon the liver."

This was I thought very forcibly to the mind of a reporter a few evenings ago, when one of our most fashionable young ladies walked into a meat store and called for some liver, and the following conversation took place between the butcher and the young lady:—

Lady—"Have you any liver?"

Butcher—"Yes, mam, what kind?"

Lady—"Bed liver."

"Well, yes, we have one, but it does not belong to the store, but I will see if I can arrange to let you have a part of it. How much did you want?"

L—"What is it worth?"

B—"Ten cents a pound, mam."

L—"Well, I will take a whole one, then."

Here the butcher almost fainted, and leaned against the ice box to steady himself, while the reporter all the time stood by and looked on in silent wonder what would happen next.

Finally the young lady began to think maybe she had made a mistake, an asked, "How much will it weigh?"

By this time the butcher had sufficiently recovered to say: "About fifteen pounds."

"Good Lord! I don't want to buy a whole cow," gasped the lady, and then she fainted and had to be carried to the door where the evening breezes could bring back the flush to her cheek. When she began to revive she exclaimed in a low whisper, "Oh, my! I will ever live to eat that liver!"

The order was cancelled and she took a 15 cent steak and walked out, and was heard to exclaim as she started off, "So long as I live I shall try to live without buying liver."

Then the reporter disappeared around the corner, and has not heard of another case of liver trouble since.

PERSONALS

Around Town

J. Mack Stansberry, of Knoxville, was in town Wednesday on business.

John B. Gates and wife returned Tuesday evening from a week's vacation spent in Covington and Cincinnati.

Mrs. James Sawyers is packing her household goods preparatory to moving to St. Petersburg, Fla., to spend the winter.

Mrs. Dr. W. C. Black and little son, Stanley, who have been spending several days with friends in Pineville, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. G. B. Roush, representing the Whitaker Paper Company, of Cincinnati, was in this city Wednesday and paid this office a pleasant call.

Mrs. Flora Anderson, of Lynchburg, Virginia, who has been visiting Mrs. A. N. Herndon for the past two months, returned to her "Old Virginia" home Monday.

Dr. John D. Hitchcock and family are packing preparatory to move to their new home in Catlettsburg. We sincerely regret to lose so estimable a family from our midst.

Rev. E. Trosper will leave next week with his family for Florida. He will be accompanied by quite a little colony of some 25 or 30 persons, who are going there to locate.

Rev. F. W. Harrop has been assigned to the pastorate of the First Methodist Church of this city, to succeed Rev. J. D. Hitchcock, and will move here with his family next week.

Rev. A. B. Brown, of Atlanta, Georgia, preached a very interesting discourse last Sunday morning at the Baptist Church, the closing of the North Concord Baptist Association.

Mrs. A. W. Hopper is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Freeman, in Salisbury, N. C., who has been quite ill. Later reports, however, bring the good news that she is rapidly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stivers, of Corbin, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Brittain, and sister, Mrs. J. R. Tuggle, this city. They returned to their home in Corbin on Monday noon's train.

John W. Sampson will leave next week for St. Petersburg, Fla., and will move his entire livery outfit from here to that point, consisting of twenty-two head of horses, a lot of buggies and carriages, harness, etc.

Col. W. S. Yerkes, National Bank Examiner, has been here this week going over the books of both of our banking institutions, and he informed the Advocate man that he found business straight on both sides of the street.

W. M. Inker left last Sunday for Knoxville, where he will remain for the next month in the Wholesale Shoe business and will meet his numerous customers who attend the Appalachian Exposition and take their orders for shoes while they are in the city.

Man Who Sought to Build Panama Canal Is Leader

W. J. Oliver Has Organized Great Appalachian Exposition Project.

Although he did not get the government contract to build the Panama canal, W. J. Oliver, of Knoxville, Tennessee, was by no means undaunted, and he is still engineering great enterprises. Mr. Oliver, who is one of the most widely known private citizens of the union, on account of having had the lowest bid to build the Panama canal, is the president of the Appalachian Exposition, to be held in Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 12 to Oct. 12, next. This great enterprise is being worked out along lines that have made Mr. Oliver the success he is in business circles and affairs generally. He has given the undertaking the best of his energies and experiences, and has enlisted his associates with that same zeal that will give the south the greatest exposition it has ever known. Mr. Oliver is a multimillionaire, and commands great resources from which he is drawing in order to make this exposition the signal success of his life. He has given the undertaking the best of his energies and experiences, and has enlisted his associates with that same zeal that will give the south the greatest exposition it has ever known. Mr. Oliver is a multimillionaire, and commands great resources from which he is drawing in order to make this exposition the signal success

W. J. OLIVER,
President Appalachian Exposition,
Knoxville, Tenn.

that all his efforts have achieved. A conception of his resourcefulness may be had from the statement that when the government was negotiating with him relative to building the Panama canal, he was given ten days in which to organize a company of $5,000,000 capitalization to carry out his canal proposition. He met the requirement by organizing his company in only three days, and the entire $5,000,000 capital was paid in within the three days. Mr. Oliver has great faith in the future of the Appalachian region, with its wealth of natural undeveloped resources. He is encouraging the Appalachian Exposition because he believes it will prove a powerful factor in advancing the interests of Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, the states in the Appalachian region.

Expert Poultrymen to Pass Upon These Birds

Fanciers Who Are Widely Known Are Interested in Appalachian Exhibit.

Poultry lovers throughout this region are interested in the poultry exhibit that is to be given at the Appalachian Exposition, in Knoxville, Tenn., September 12 to October 12 of this year.

The following representatives and well-known poultrymen have been appointed by President W. J. Oliver to hold the show: L. B. Audiger, chairman; J. H. Henderson, J. C. White, E. E. Carter, R. P. Williams, W. J. Frazer, Knoxville, Tenn.; John A. Murkin, Nashville, Tenn.; C. O. Harwell, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. W. L. Crocker, Augusta, Ga.; J. P. Swift, Waynesville, N. C.; J. E. Hage, Asheville, N. C.; B. S. Horne, Keweenaw, Va.; C. F. Ward, Winter Park, Fla.; C. C. Marsh, Washington, Miss.; C. T. Fallon, Greenville, S. C.; C. H. Dörler, Marion, Ala.; W. P. Hoffert, Gadsden, Ala.; F. L. Smith, Lexington, Ky.

A poultry institute will be held during the week of the show, and will be participated in by many of the best speakers and most prominent poultrymen in the country, among them Judge S. T. Campbell, Secretary-treasurer of the American Poultry association, who will conduct the institute.

The management have been exceedingly fortunate in securing as judges for this great comparison show the following well-known and popular gentlemen:

Judge J. H. Drenstedt, of New York, editor of the American Standard of Perfection, and whose opinion is valued more highly probably than any other poultry judge in the United States. He has judged at Madison Square, New York, since 1891, Boston, Cleveland, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Richmond, Washington, Hagerstown, Toronto, Canada, also at state fairs and shows in the past twenty years at Atlanta, Columbia, Greenville, Nashville, Bristol, Lexington and Charleston. His selection will please poultrymen all over the country.

Judge W. Theo. Wittman, of Pennsylvania, one of the strongest judges in the east, will open the Madison race. Judge Wittman is a writer, lecturer, instructor, thirty years a poultryman and a judge of all varieties.

KENTUCKY STATE FAIR

There Will Be Trotting, Pacing and Running Races Daily at the Kentucky State Fair.

OUR FAIR.

In addition to the county fair that we can all lay claim to as being a part of our possessions, the Kentucky State Fair at Louisville, September 12-17, belongs to us as much as to any people in the state. Every Kentuckian should regard this as in a sense his fair. It represents what is being done all over the state just as the county fair shows what is being done in each county in the way of agriculture, live stock and general advancement, and is a combination of the various county fairs, not only of Kentucky, but a great many states. There are represented in this exhibition a complete of the live stock, etc., produced in the various states. The various state fairs are growing in magnitude each year, and the attendance is increased, as every one desires to know what is being done in other parts of the state and country.

The Kentucky State Fair Rivals All Others in the Variety and Class of Horses Exhibited.

DOGS OF HIGH DEGREE.

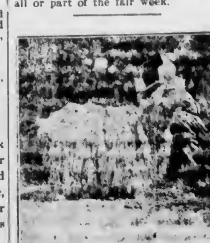

The exhibit of collie dogs at the Kentucky State Fair, which begins in Louisville on September 12, will be a particularly pleasing one. Already the list of entries is large, and the prizes are the best ever offered. The rules of the American Kennel Club will govern the collie dog show, and these rules may be had on application to Secretary J. W. Newman, Louisville, Kentucky.

A Blue Ribbon Winner at the Kentucky State Fair.

Tenting on the Lawn.

It is expected that many Kentuckians will take advantage of the opportunity to spend an entire week at the State Fair, which will begin in Louisville on September 12. The beautiful, well-shaded and well-watered fair grounds offer an inviting spot for camping parties, as was evidenced last year. It is reported in the headquarters of the State Fair in Louisville that numerous inquiries have already been received from visitors who plan to camp out on the grounds for all or part of the fair week.

FORESTRY DISP.AYS AT APPALACHIAN EXPOSITION

Building. Typical of This Great Resource and Industry of the South, Will Present Unprecedented Exhibits.

Among the many exhibits of rare educational as well as commercial value to be presented at the Appalachian exposition in Knoxville, Tenn., September 12 to October 12 is that of the forestry department. The Appalachian exposition is being projected in behalf of the stimulation of sentiment in favor of forestry conservation in the Appalachian region. Consequently a display of forest products and the industrial possibilities thereof is eminently appropriate at this exposition.

Situated upon a commanding elevation and the most conspicuous in the entire exposition grounds, is the Forestry building. It is surrounded by a grove of towering trees, also suggestive of the character of the buildings and the exhibits contained therein. The structure is 70 by 11 feet in size, and is two stories in height. Two tall flag poles rise from the crest, from which float the national and state and exposition colors. The roof of the building projects 12 feet on all sides, and the convex roof upon tall columns of rustic large hard wood logs, which were cut from forests of the Appalachian range and brought here especially for this building. They portray various backgrounds in the native forest style. This makes a colossus of architectural beauty and fitness, surrounding the entire building.

Pyrotechnic Features Will Be Magnificent

Pain's "Battle in the Clouds," a Notable Feature of the Appalachian Exposition.

The pyrotechnic feature of the Appalachian Exposition in Knoxville, Tenn., September 12 to October 12 will be important. Great displays of Pain's pyrotechnic presentations, mighty in their brilliancy, will be given every night during the first week of the exposition. The culminating feature, however, comes the second week of the exposition, when the "Battle in the Clouds," a wonderful story of the day with aerial realism will be presented.

"The Battle in the Clouds" is now being presented nightly in the immense new amphitheater at Luna Park, Cleveland.

Fully three hundred people participate in the aerial episodes, battle pageants and of this big exhibition the beautiful scenic representation of the city of aerie together with the airships occupy the entire infield of the huge tree.

The fascinating and thrilling mid-summer play shows of the famous Pain have for twenty-seven years been the one big night attraction at the fashionable Manhattan beach, New York, and also for the same length of time at Alexandra Palace, London. The production to be given at exposition will surpass anything ever seen in an open air amusement line in the country.

The spectator will see before him in the great amphitheater a mimic city of the period A. D. 2000, with its palaces, temples, triangular arches, wireless telegraph stations known as "The City of Science."

A fête is being held to celebrate the establishment of communication between Mars. Soldiers parade the streets and children will dance before "King Pyro" and his Queen Electra, rulers of the City of Science, and the greatest scientific and novelty acts procurable are presented.

Mars is displaced over the success of the World of Science being able to send his planet and send a ship to warn the aspiring race to desert in the city of science.

from a robust nature, King Pyro is a strong and a very energetic fighting machine to pieces, gives a very graphic scene version of the destruction of a city by aerial craft. When the smoke has fairly cleared away shows the ill-fated city, the second grand event begins, a gorgeous display of Pain's Manhattan Fireworks terminates the evening's performance.

In this marvelous pyrotechnic program, which is changed nightly, are shown all the latest novelties in fireworks, for which the famous Pain is justly celebrated, both in this country and in Europe. Provision will be made to accommodate 10,000 people.

The act secured this year for the "Battle in the Clouds" are the largest and best of the vaudeville world. The exhibition of Gene and Marie Aeltz men on the high wire are also worth a trip of miles to see. The flying Jords, the Eugene Trio, Bain's Back Bounding Rope, Sada Oosterik with their trick horse and others equally as great furnish the program for the entertainment of the citizens of the City of Science.

CUPS FOR FINE POULTRY.

Several magnificent and very valuable silver cups have been offered as trophies in the poultry show preliminary list for the Appalachian Exposition in Knoxville, Sept. 12 to Oct. 12. The poultry will be judged by some of the crack poultrymen of the country.

LIVE STOCK, PET STOCK, POULTRY AND OTHER DAYS

Arranged in Connection With Appalachian Exposition—Women's Conferences.

Among the many special days arranged in connection with the Appalachian Exposition, in Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 12 to Oct. 12, those of special interest to farmers and stock raisers will be the days set apart for live stock, pet stock and poultry. These dates, as announced by the exposition management, are as follows:

Live stock week, Sept. 12 to 17, inclusive.
Horse races, Sept. 12 to 17, inclusive.
Bench show for dogs, Sept. 22, 23, 24.
Pigeon show, Sept. 27 to Oct. 1, inclusive.

Poultry show, Oct. 5 to 15, inclusive. The live stock committee of the exposition has charge of the live stock exhibit, and the poultry committee is arranging the displays of pet stock and poultry. The pet stock includes dogs, pigeons, etc. A large number of premiums have been offered for each of these shows. A feature of the premium list is about twenty-five silver loving cups for excellence in the displays of poultry.

In addition to these special days for stock, the exposition has arranged for several other special days, and plans are pending whereby other "days" will be announced later. The dates already assigned are:

Sept. 12—Opening day, when Gov. M. R. Patterson, of Tennessee, and other notables will be present and participate in the formal opening of the exposition. President William J. Oliver, of the Appalachian Exposition Co., will preside and will deliver an address.

Sept. 15—Fraternal and Rural Carriers' day.
Sept. 22—Arboretal day.
Sept. 27—Miners' day.

Oct. 1—United Commercial Travelers' day.
Oct. 6—Travelers' Protective Association day.

Oct. 7—Roosevelt and Spanish-American War Veterans' day.

Oct. 8, 7 and 8—Educational conference days.

Oct. 12—Columbus day.

Women's Conferences.

The women's department of the Appalachian Exposition has arranged a series of conferences that will prove highly interesting to the women of the Appalachian region. These conferences will be open to all women visitors to the exposition. The dates already announced are:

Sept. 24—The City Beautiful. Under the direct of Mrs. L. D. Tyson, president Knoxville ladies.
Sept. 26—The Congress. Direction of Mrs. Belva Lockwood, of Washington, D. C.

Sept. 27—Tennessee Federation Board.

Sept. 28, 29, 30—Conference Women's Clubs of the South. Direction of Mrs. L. C. French, president Tennessee Federation of Women's clubs.

Oct. 1—Women's Christian Temperance Union of the South. Direction Mrs. S. M. Holman, Fayetteville, Tenn.

Oct. 3—Women's Relief Corps Conference. Direction Mrs. Annie Ford Johnson.

Oct. 4—Press and Authors' Clubs. Direction Mrs. Barfield Smith, Cockeville, Tenn.

Oct. 5—Historical Societies. Direction Mrs. M. S. Cockle, Nashville.

Oct. 6—United Daughters of the Confederacy. Direction Mrs. R. H. Sanson, Knoxville.

Oct. 7—Daughters American Revolution. Direction Mrs. Thomas Day, Knoxville.

Oct. 8—Organization of Southern Teachers' league.

Library of Southern Books at Exposition

In the woman's board of the Appalachian exposition, to be held at Knoxville, Tenn., September 12 to October 12, the department of literature wishes to establish a permanent library after the close of the exposition, to be called the Appalachian library. The books to be placed and loaned as such, will be the name of author or publisher who donates. With this in view, the committee is soliciting books which are of interest as southern literature. These books to be on exhibit in the woman's building during the Appalachian exposition.

The library solicits a loan exhibit of old, new, rare and valuable books from private or public libraries and also asks for loan exhibits from publishers.

Books from private libraries must be plainly marked with owner's name and address.

Books from publishers will be marked with their name, address and the rights they represent.

A loving cup will be given for the best selection from a private library. A loving cup will also be given the publisher who donates the largest number of books to the Appalachian library.

Books should be sent to the Woman's building of the exposition not later than September 10.

All books will be insured and every safeguard will be arranged for safety and return. Miss Kate White of Knoxville, is chairman; Mrs. T. S. Devant, of Knoxville, is Secretary.
